

Highlights this week

Remembrance Day

On Tuesday, our school community came together to show respect to those who have served and sacrificed. The children participated with great respect and maturity, observing the two minutes of silence. We watched the video below to discuss what Remembrance Day is and why it is important.

Notices

Head Bump Notifications Update

From next week, we will notify parents/ carers by email if your child experiences a head bump at school, rather than by phone call. Your child will continue to come home with a first aid slip and be wearing a wristband indicating the time of the head bump to support appropriate monitoring. We hope this change will work better for everyone involved and help reduce any worry caused by receiving a call from the school.

It is very important that we have accurate contact details for all families, especially up-to-date email addresses so we can be sure that you receive important emails from the school, like head bump notifications. If any of your information has changed recently, please come and let us know so we can update our records.

Curriculum Letters

You will have recently received curriculum letters to share what your child will be learning this term. Please take a good look over these. They give a really useful insight into learning this term and how you can support your child at home. If you have any questions, please speak with your child's class teacher.

Parents' Evening Reminder

Please remember to book your Parents' Evening appointment via School Gateway. This year, the school gates will remain closed during Parents' Evening, so please enter the school through the main office, where Miss Little and I (Mrs Wheatcroft) will be delighted to greet you and answer any questions you may have. We look forward to seeing you soon.

Reading Shed

You may have noticed our new Reading Shed near the Year 4 classrooms. This will soon be open during lunchtimes and after school for children to borrow and donate books.

Our School Council is working hard to turn this into a mini-library, and we'll share more details soon.

If you have any books, in good condition, that you no longer need, please keep them aside—we'll be asking for donations shortly to help fill the shed!

A huge thank you to ASSA for funding this project. We can't wait to see our Reading Shed come to life!
